Council Repeals Ordinance Creating District; New "Redlight."

The segregated district of El Paso, as provided by an ordinance by the city council of 1912, was repealed by a resolution introduced and unanimously passed by the city council Thursday morning. Mayor Tom Lea announced that he would issue instructions to the chief of police to serve such notice upon the women of the district to move before March I.

"I would have it understood," said mayor Lea, "that if the women go to that section bounded by Eligith street on the north and west of aller lying between Santa Fe and Chimahua sireets, they will not be molested."

Effective At Once.

The ordinance repealing the former ordinance goes into effect at once and the days of grace are granted in order that any of the women having property or furniture which they wish to sell, may dispose of it in the meanwhile. From now on any restricted section will exist only through police supervision and under the surveillance of that department, it being tacitly understood that the women are not to be scattered into the residential sections.
